

WHY SHOULD YOU TAKE THIS COURSE?:
THIS COURSE PROVIDES HANDS-ON EXPERIENCE THAT IS DIRECTLY RELEVANT
IF YOU ARE

1. Labs will be announced in class and on OWL. The labs will involve evaluation and interpretation of data, such as force plate data during standing balance, and kinematics and kinetics during gait. The laboratory evaluations are based on quizzes completed after the lab activities are complete.

The time slots for the labs will be used for other “face-to-face” encounters to support the course, such as assistance with the small-group research projects and “office hours”.

Assignments are due as stated in the course syllabus and will not be accepted late, except under medical or other compassionate circumstances. Submitting a late assignment without appropriate documentation will result in a zero (0) grade. A missed midterm examination or laboratory, without appropriate documentation will result in a zero (0) grade. Acceptable reasons might include hospital stays, serious illness, family emergencies (like serious accidents, illness or death) or similar circumstances. In the case of missed midterm examinations with approved formal academic considerations, the make-up examination will occur during class, one week after the regularly scheduled midterm. In the case of approved formal academic considerations but continuing medical or compassionate circumstances such that it is not possible to perform the scheduled make-up examination, then other accommodations or an alternative evaluation will be performed. In the case of missed laboratories, the student should attend a different lab section for the same lab. If a student is unable to attend a different lab section for the same lab, and has approved formal academic considerations, then the other labs will be re-weighted to make up the lab grade.

2. Small- Group research projects:

These projects involve replicating

2009;136:639-642).

Students must write all aspects of the paper in their own words. You must acknowledge ideas that you take from others using proper referencing. Plagiarism is a major academic offence that the device is activated and functional. You must speak with the course instructor immediately, if you have any concerns about whether or not your clicker is malfunctioning.

You must use only your own clicker. For all components of this course in which clicker records are used to compute a portion of the grade:

The use of somebody else's clicker in class constitutes a scholastic offence;

The possession of a clicker belonging to another student will be interpreted as an attempt to commit a scholastic offense

4. Academic Considerations and Absences from Lectures and Assessments

Religious Accommodation

When a course requirement conflicts with a religious holiday that requires an absence from the University or prohibits certain activities, students should request (in writing) any necessary academic considerations at least two weeks prior to the holiday to the academic counsellors in their Home Department. Additional information is provided in the Western Multicultural Calendar.

Academic Accommodation

Please contact the course instructor if you require lecture or printed material in an alternate format or if any other arrangements can make this course more accessible to you. Students with ongoing accommodation needs within this course are also encouraged to contact Accessible Education re-weighting course requirements, or granting late withdrawals without academic penalty. Academic considerations shall be granted only where the documentation indicates that the onset, duration and severity of the illness are such that the student could not reasonably be expected to complete their academic responsibilities. (Note – it will not be sufficient to provide documentation
