Prerequisite Checking

Unless you have either the requisites for this course or written special permission from your Dean to enroll in it, you may be removed from this course and it will be deleted from your record. This decision may not be appealed. You will receive no adjustment to your fees in the event that you are dropped from a course for failing to have the necessary prerequisites.

Course Information

This course provides an introduction to rural communities and how they differ from urban communities. Rural and urban comparisons will be introduced from sociological, economic, political, and health services perspectives.

The learning objectives of this course are to:

- Understand rural communities from a variety of perspectives, and how rural communities are defined and how they define themselves
- Understand the health of the rural population
- Understand the roles of various levels of government, federal, provincial and municipal to deliver service programs to rural communities
