French 1010 (Intermediate) is an intensive course designed as a continuation of French 1002 (Beginner), or as a course for students with some limited experience of French. This course prepares students for first-year university French, (French 1910 or 1900E), and possible DELF A1 or A2 certification*. French 1010 begins with a quick review of the basics of grammar and its terminology. We then move on to an active learning approach, calling on you to use your critical thinking skills and participate actively in the process of developing your knowledge of the French language. This will include listening, reading, writing and speaking in French. We will cover Chapters 8-12 and the Supplementary Chapter of our textbook in French 1010. There is a weekly Language Laboratory session which supplements in-class instruction.

By the end of the course, students will be expected to:

- be able to recognise and identify most parts of speech.
- understand sentences and frequently used expressions related to areas of most immediate relevance (e.g. personal and family information, shopping, local geography, employment).
- communicate in simple and routine tasks requiring a simple and direct exchange of information on familiar and routine matters.
- describe in simple terms aspects of his/her background, immediate environment and matters in areas of immediate need.

* Students who successfully complete this course may be skilled enough to write either the DELF A1 or A2 French proficiency test in order to obtain a diploma certifying your French language skills. The DÉLF is a certification of French-language abilities for non-

Please also note the following university regulation:

A student is entitled to be examined in courses in which registration is maintained, subject to the following limitations:

- a) A student may be debarred from writing the final examination for failure to maintain satisfactory standing throughout the year.
- b) Any student who, in the opinion of the instructor, is absent too frequently from class or laboratory periods in any course, will be reported to the Dean, (after due warning has been given). On the recommendation of the Department concerned, and with the permission of the Dean, the student will be debarred from taking the regular examination in the course.

A written Final Exam in the April 2012 exam period. There is no exam in the December 2011 exam period.
