1. Policies on Use of Unexpended Income in Award Accounts

At its meeting of September 10, 2001, the Property & Finance Committee approved the Policy for Use of Unexpended Income in Award Endowments and the Policy to Recapitalize Unexpended Income in UWO Award Accounts, as outlined below:

POLICY FOR USE OF UNEXPENDED INCOME IN AWARD ENDOWMENTS:

In order to maximize the effective use of unexpended income in award endowments, an annual review of award accounts will be done.

- The Registrar's Office and the Faculty of Graduate Studies, in consultation with the Division of Financial Services, will review the UWO held award accounts and revise either the award value and/or the number of awards available up to the annual UWO endowed allocation for spending.
- Foundation Western awards will be reviewed by the Executive Director and either the award value and/or the number of awards available will be revised to maximize the effective use of Foundation Western's endowment funds.

Awards revised as a result of this review will be reported to the Board of Governors.

very old or were given as a bequest or memorial where no contact name was provided. In these cases, Financial Services, the Office of the Registrar and the Faculty of Graduate Studies usually consult with the Faculty for which the fund is held before making changes.

For the other 30% of funds, donors are contacted whenever possible to allow the transfer of excess income to the capital account. Although current award agreements and provisions include a clause allowing the University to increase award values or numbers to meet the needs of students, documents prior to April 2000 do not include this stipulation. Transfers of excess income to capital have required approval by the donor(s) whenever possible, which has delayed the increase in awards by as much as 6 weeks.

The above policies will improve administrative efficien

Ontario Medical Association Student Bursaries (Faculty of Medicine & Dentistry, Medicine)

Awarded to students in the undergraduate Medicine program who demonstrate financial need. These bursaries were established by generous donations from medical alumni and friends and the Ontario Medical Foundation.
